The Jazz Age Lawn Party 2019 guide

The Jazz Age Lawn Party 2019 is one of the most spectacular things to do in summer on gorgeous Governors Island. Step onto the ferry—and back in time—with thousands of revelers dressed to the 1920s-nines. During the event, enjoy live music from Michael Arenella and his Dreamland Orchestra, learn the Charleston and sip cocktails and have a picnic in the sunshine. It's one of the best things to do outside (beside hitting the best New York beaches and rooftop bars in NYC, of course).

Your guide to SummerStage 2022

When the city heats up, so too does SummerStage, one of the most anticipated summer concerts known for its free tickets and stellar line-up. The City Parks Foundation series is a juggernaut among warm-weather concert presenters, booking everything from classic New York hip-hop artists in outerborough NYC parks to big-name indie-rock bands on the Central Park mainstage. The festival has even expanded to film screenings and dance performances. The scope of Capital One City Parks Foundation SummerStage 2022 is so vast we wouldn't blame you for being a bit bewildered by the whole thing.

Here's a quick FAQ to get you started with SummerStage 2022.

Curated List by Sharon Hoge

Don't miss a selection of wonderful temporary exhibits which are winding up their runs before the summer season.

Flower Craft

Museum of Arts and Design

Furthering the development of early modern European still life painting, 18th century picturesque pieces, and the hyperreality of 21st century digital realm, the creative visions of contemporary botanical artists celebrate and explore nature's ephemerality and inimitable palettes through all stages of the plant life cycle: seed, germination, decay.

Jim Nutt: Portraits

Venus Over Manhattan, Downtown

In an exceedingly rare presentation of works by the important Chicago artist, paintings and works on paper focus on the portrait format that has structured his practice for nearly four decades, belying his interest in surreal physiognomies, latent sexual anxiety, and confrontational humor.
